Carole A. Buleza

Director,
Antiochian Orthodox
Department of
Christian Education

Carole was appointed to the position for the Antiochian Archdiocese in January 2000. She holds a B.A. in Elementary Education and a Master's Degree in Religion, with a specialty in Religious Education. Carole served as the project director and primary author of the high school text "The Way, The Truth & The Life," published by the OCEC. She also established the OCEC Training Department and wrote modules to standardize basic training for teachers. The modules have provided hundreds of teachers throughout North America with the resources and training for success in the church school classroom.

Register by September 11th, 2016. Seats are reserved.
